

House Won't Shift Control of Schools

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House declined Monday to shift control of the four state training schools to the Welfare Department, but approved a bill merging the McRae and Booneville tuberculosis sanatoriums.

The representatives debated almost an hour before voting 34-56 on the training school measure, which would have created a division for the schools under their own director in the Welfare Department. Opponents argued that the bill would add to the department's power.

The Senate, meanwhile, approved 28-1 a bill giving the state's school districts $20 for each student who completed a driver training course. The bill, designed to encourage driver education in the schools, was the first of a series of highway safety measures to come before the legislature this session.

The House defeated a proposal allowing a deduction for federal income taxes in computing state income taxes, but approved a measure increasing state income tax credits.

In other action, the House passed a bill requiring payment of prevailing wages on public works projects of more than $25,000 in towns of more than 10,000 population and counties of more than 20,000 inhabitants.

Under the training schools bill, the institutions would retain their present boards in an advisory capacity while the chairmen of each of these boards plus gubernatorial appointees would make up a larger board, which Rep. G. W. Turner Jr. of Pine Bluff derisively referred to as the "super board."

"If I got to be governor of Arkansas and if I could control the super board, I'd have the state in my hand," Turner said.

Reps. John Bethell of Des Arc and Paul Bates of Pine Bluff joined Turner in arguing that the bill would add to the influence of the Welfare Department, which Turner said "controlled" 180,000 persons.

Proponents of the measure included legislators who uncovered instances of what they said were dereliction at the State Girls Training School at Alexander. They said the bill would cure existing ills and, by placing the schools in the Welfare Department, provide valuable follow-up information on inmates after their release plus quality the schools for the first time for federal money.

Rep. Doug Brandon of Little Rock said studies to correct conditions in the schools had been conducted for the last 16 years, but nothing had been done yet.

"If we can't do a better job for these people... then we have an obligation to turn them loose on society," said Rep. Harry Carter of Little Rock of training school inmates. "When society becomes conscious of the (present) program, then I think society will realize something needs to be done."

Rep. Leon Holsted of North Little Rock said the Welfare Department, superintendents of three of the schools, judges and various organizations approved the measure. Brandon said opposition was coming from officials of the Boys Training School at Pine Bluff, which he said admittedly had better operations than the other three.

The representatives approved the sanatorium merger bill 94-0 without debate. Under the measure, all patients at the McRae sanatorium would be transferred to Booneville by July 1.

A resolution was introduced in the House Monday calling for the appointment of a House-Senate committee to study the feasibility of converting the property for treatment of the mentally retarded.

The House defeated 38-41 a bill by Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith, the Republican minority leader, allowing a partial deduction of federal income taxes that would progress by 20 per cent each year, ending with a total deduction after five years.

Nowotny said the bill, suggested by U.S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Kensett, would cost the state $1,242,000 the first year. Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock urged passage to move the state Revenue Department "into a little initiative and aggressiveness" in suggesting complete revision of the income tax laws.

The House earlier had defeated two other proposals to give taxpayers credit for federal income taxes.

A bill by Rep. Chadd Durrett of Strong increasing income tax credits, however, sailed to an 84-8 approval. The bill would increase credits from $17.50 to $25 for single taxpayers, from $35 to $50 for a head of a family or taxpayers filing a joint return and $6 to $9 for each dependent.

3 Escapees Recaptured by Police

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — Three escapees from Tucker Prison Farm were caught near here Monday night following a high speed chase and a scare for a Keo couple.

State Police said the three, who escaped Sunday, ran through a roadblock at DeValls Bluff where Trooper Dennis Atwood trailed the car at speeds up to 115 m.p.h.

Officers said the trio entered the combination grocery store-home of Mr. and Mrs. Elree D. Wilson in Keo, tied up the couple, got something to eat and then stole Wilson's car. Police also said they stole a butcher knife from the store.

They made their way to U.S. 70 where they turned right and headed toward DeValls Bluff. Wilson, meanwhile, freed himself and notified authorities of the incident. Road blocks were immediately set up throughout the area.

They ran through Atwood's road block at the White River Bridge at DeValls Bluff. He pursued them and called ahead for help. Two members of the Brinkley Police Department cut the convicts off west of Brinkley, forced them into a ditch and they were apprehended.

Officers said no one was injured and the car was only damaged.

Police identified the men as Ernest Clinton Tunstall, 22, of Bay; Billy Ray Marvel, 20, of Pine Bluff and James Russell Smith, 25, of Blytheville. They left Tucker Prison Farm on horseback at 10 a.m. Sunday, prison authorities reported.

No Locker in Gym for the Lady Lawmakers

By TOM STEWART
WASHINGTON (AP) — One right that lady congressmen want to exercise is the right to exercise.

The problem: There is no women's locker room in the otherwise beautifully appointed House gym — perhaps because there are only 11 women in the House and only a fraction of those are exercise addicts.

Rep. Patsy Mink, a trim Democrat of about 40 from Hawaii, is one who would like the place turned over to the women members for just a few hours a week. But the men won't let them in.

"Their argument is that there are 424 of them and only 11 of us," she said.

The odds didn't faze Mrs. Mink Monday when she and two other congresswomen made a frontal attack. In the process they jarred gym director Herbert Botts.

Rep. Charlotte Reid, R-Ill., 53, leader of the raid, marched into a gym anteroom with Mrs. Mink and Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., 52.

With straight faces, they said they were there in response to a letter inviting all members of the House to a new series of cal-

Botts hurried them out, explaining they had already penetrated the defenses of the all-male establishment more than was proper.

"The men come out there in various stages of dress to make telephone calls and things," Botts said.

The ladies knew they were off limits but they said it was worth it to keep the pressure on for an "equal time" gym-sharing treaty.

"We were trying to make a point," said Mrs. Mink.

"We really felt sorry for the poor man," Mrs. Reid said, "but when we heard about that letter we couldn't resist it."

No Shift in Attitude Toward War

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
LONDON (AP) — No shift in the Soviet attitude toward the war in Vietnam emerged today from the opening of talks between Prime Ministers Alexei Kosygin and Harold Wilson.

Informants said Wilson and Kosygin restated their familiar positions on the Southeast Asian war at the first private sessions of the Soviet premier's week-long visit to Britain.

They talked for three hours Monday in the Cabinet room at No. 10 Downing St. That was an hour more than scheduled, but there was no hint that this indicated any progress toward agreements. A spokesman said it meant they were "usefully occupied in their time."

A news blackout was imposed on the discussions, and some diplomatic commentators took this as a good sign. However, Soviet sources said Kosygin arrived from Moscow ready to press the Communist position that the United States must stop bombing North Vietnam before any peace talks can start.

Father, Son Are Flying Together

By GEORGE ESPEY
NEW YORK (AP) — When Steve Goldhammer was 11 years old, he used to watch his father, a Coast Guard pilot, flying around in a helicopter.

"We always lived near the base and he used to fly over the house and wave," Steve recalls. "Everytime he flew over I wished I was up there."

Ensign Steve Goldhammer, now 22, is up there these days flying with his father, Lt. Cmdr. Walter R. Goldhammer, 47, among several other pilots.

Cmdr. Goldhammer says he believes he and Steve are the only father and son on active flight duty in the Coast Guard.

The father has 27 years service. The son won his wings and ensign's bars Jan. 20, a day after he turned 22.

"It was a good birthday present for me," Steve said today.

The Goldhammers are based at Floyd Bennett Field in Brook-

"You Asked For It"

Irene, making merry at an amusement park, took a ride on one of those "bumper" cars. Later, blaming her jolting ride for a head injury, she filed a damage suit against the management.

But there was no evidence that Irene's ride had been any rougher than usual. Turning down her claim, the court said:

"It was for the thrill of bumping and of the escape from being bumped that the plaintiff entered the contrivance. The chance of a collision was that which gave zest to the game. One who takes part in such a sport accepts the dangers, just as a fencer accepts the risk of a thrust by his antagonist."

Accidents can and do happen at an amusement park. But you are not likely to collect damages if, in all fairness, the management can say:

"You asked for it." But exactly how much risk do you ask for? The law says you do not ask for risks that are not open to ordinary observation.

Consider this case:

A young man stepped up to a "Test Your Strength" booth to swing the mallet. But as he was bringing the mallet down, the head flew off. The handle, suddenly lightened, smashed hard against his knee, inflicting a painful injury.

In these circumstances, the court held that the victim was indeed entitled to damages—because the hidden defect in the mallet was not the kind of danger the customer had bargained for. Nor do you assume a risk that is forced upon you, rather than accepted voluntarily. For example:

Near the end of her journey through a fun house, a girl stopped short before a scary-looking slide.

"Is there any other exit?" she asked the attendant apprehensively.

There was—but the attendant told her there was not. The girl went down the slide, and, sure enough, got hurt. Here, too, the court upheld her claim for damages, because she had not willingly assumed the risk of the slide.

But if you merely get dizzy on the merry-go-round, or nervous on the Ferris wheel, or embarrassed at being laughed at, don't blame that on the management. You paid your money and you took your chance.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope's annual Christmas show, broadcast by NBC in mid-January, as usual ran away with the Nielsen ratings for the period. It was far ahead of the perennial champion, "Bonanza" and pulled the second largest audience of the season, beaten only by ABC's broadcast of the "Bridge on the River Kwai" in September.

The Nielsen ratings are more than simple popularity contests. They translate into dollars and cents. In a study published in the current issue of the trade magazine "Broadcasting," it is estimated that the cost of a minute of commercial time on the Hope special cost the advertiser $85,000. Cost of a minute on "Bonanza" is $55,000, the magazine said.

Among regularly scheduled programs, the most expensive for the advertiser is CBS' "The Lucy Show," which the magazine figured costs $65,500 per minute. The Red Skelton Show and Ed Sullivan's hour cost $62,000 and $61,000 respectively. "Beverly Hillsbillies" is pegged at $57,900.

Generally, the higher the Nielsen rating, the more the commercial traffic bears. On the other end of the scale, ABC's "Green Hornet" and NBC's "Laredo" each receive $27,000 per minute — less than half the rewards of the winners' circle.

Daytime charges for commercial time are much lower but the magazine said the minute cost of CBS' "As the World Turns," the most popular soap opera, is $14,000. It drops to $3,600 for ABC's "Dark Shadows."

CBS moved "Mission Impossible" ahead a half-hour on Saturday nights and it promptly picked up a couple of rating points — at least two million viewers — in Jackie Gleason's wake.

A B C's "Love on a Rooftop" changed to a new day and time period, and gained three points, but change did not seem to help "The Phyllis Diller Show."

Top 10 shows in the period were Hope's Christmas show, CBS' rerun of "Cinderella," NBC's "Bonanza," CBS' "Andy Griffith Show," "Lucy Show," Friday Night Movie, Jackie Gleason Show, Ed Sullivan Show and "Hogan's Heroes."

In the averages, CBS emerged the winner with 21.6, followed by NBC with 20.2 and ABC 17.8.

Recommended tonight: "Alaska," CBS, 7:30-8:30 EST, special by the National Geographic Society about a trip through our northernmost state.

ROMANCE BY SLOW COMPUT-ER

Dear Helen: I sent my name and qualifications, and a fee to a "computer" outfit so they could match me up with a date. It's been three months and they still have my money, but I have no date. What to do? — GYPPEP

Dear Gyppep: Demand action or your money back and don't let that computer give the old oil. — H

Dear Helen: You may think this is dumb, but I'm only 12 years old. When I was 11, my dog Scottie was killed by a car. Ever since then I have been lonely.

I am an only child. We live on a block of mostly grown-ups, so I have no one to play with. My parents both work. They say it's too much trouble to get a dog or any other kind of pet.

Could you please tell me how I can get them to understand I need their company, but if they can't give me that, I'd settle for a pet? — PARENT OR PET WANTER

Dear P. or P. W.: If you letter doesn't convince them, honey, nothing will! I think you'll soon have a pet, and — hopefully — more attention from your parents. — H

Dear Helen: I am 21 and have never had a real date in my life. This is because I used to have a weight problem and felt inferior.

Now I have licked my big problem, but I still don't know how to make it socially. I'm away at college, able to talk to boys as friends, but then just tell me their problems, never ask me out. I'm not bad looking any more, but somehow it never gets through to them I'm a girl. Help! — L. R.

Dear L: MY L. G. A. P. (I'm guessing again perception) tells me you spent your high school years listening to everybody's troubles. People who feel inferior try doubly hard to please, and so they often end up as crying towels.

It's a sad fact of life that sweet, helpful "come cry on my shoulder" girls often lose out on dates. They're too sisterly. Work on your looks and personality so that fellows will see the sparkler first, discover the sympathy as an added dividend. Change that "anxious to please" smile to a friendly grin. Put a swing in your walk and a gleam in your eye. Let men know you're a female-type girl. That's all it takes. — H

Dear Helen: Why are so many parents against going steady or steadily? They don't understand that when a boy and girl really like each other, they don't want to date different people. That doesn't mean they'll do anything wrong. They care enough about each other so they'll keep their morals high. At least the big majority will. Parents seem to think teens have no self-control. You mention "steady," and they think "pregnant." Don't they realize that if we love our parents (and most of us do) we aren't going to do anything that will make them ashamed?

"Going steady" means you're special to someone, and that's the best feeling a teen-ager can know. We understand it won't last forever and we don't get that serious, but we do like "one at a time" dating. Besides, as soon as you date one boy, no other boy will give you a second look. That's the "code." — T. L.

Dear Helen: Going steady is dumb, but what's a girl to do? If I date a fellow three times, the other guys flake off. If I date a different fellow every week-end, I'm considered a "rubber-ball," and a heartless flirt. I like lots of different boys, and the boys won't have it that way. — AGAINST STEADYING

Dear A. S.: Why don't you who are against steadying (many are these days), get together and change the code? Why cave in to rules you no longer like? — H

Leachville, NLR Tie for Poll Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
For the second time this season, Leachville shared the lead in The Associated Press Arkansas high school basketball poll.

A panel of 14 sports writers and broadcasters gave the Lions and North Little Rock 131 points each.

North Little Rock had five first place votes, five for second place and two for third.

Leachville received three votes for No. 1 and ranked second on the other ballots.

Two panelists voted the powers in a tie for first place.

Harrison got the other two votes for the top spot and clung to third place with 116 points.

Greenbrier ranked fourth and Blytheville fifth. They were followed in order by Whitehall, Fort Smith, Northside, Hot Springs, Searcy and Springdale.

Lindgren May Be Ready for Record

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Neil Steinhauer is off the mark with his shot putting and Bob Seagren hasn't set a pole vault record in more than a week now, but little Gerry Lindgren might be ready for his turn at the indoor track record book.

Lindgren whizzed to a two-mile victory in 8:31.6 at the Seattle Invitational Saturday night, that clocking is dangerously close to Ron Clarke's indoor two-mile record of 8:28.0, and by far the best time of the season.

"Not bad," said the Washington State student who is scheduled for another chance at the record this Friday in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in New York.

Lindgren handily beat Bill Baillie of New Zealand, whose 8:37.7 clocking would have been more impressive under other circumstances.

Steinhauer, meanwhile, finally got his long-awaited rematch with Randy Matson in the indoor shotput, but this time the script was different.

Matson of Texas A&M came up with a heave of 66-10<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> inches on his final throw, at San Diego, Calif., giving him the victory over Steinhauer of the University of Oregon, who a month ago dealt Matson his first defeat in the event since the 1964 Olympics. Steinhauer had a best toss of 66-2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>.

Since that meeting, Steinhauer raised the indoor record to 67-10, and Matson has complained that throwing the indoor shot isn't his style and he'll have no more of it.

And Seagren, who raised the indoor pole vault mark to 17-2 two weeks ago, didn't even win the event in San Diego. Both he and Chris Papanicolaou of Greece, now attending San Jose State, cleared 16-6, but Papanicolaou won with fewer misses.

Both of them missed at 17-2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>.

The only indoor record broken over the weekend was the American 1,000-yard standard, which fell to Tom Von Ruden of the Long Beach, Calif., Track Club in 2:06.8. That clocking in the San Diego meet, was a second better than Ted Nelson's previous U.S. record, but eight-tenths of a second off Peter Snell's world mark.

At the Philadelphia Inquirer meet, Kerry O'Brien wound up his five American tour with his third straight meet record in the two-mile, winning in 8:40.6. In the previous 10 days, O'Brien, who started back home to Australia Sunday, had set meet

Georgia T. Looks for New Coach

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP)—Bobby Dodd was widely known for his casual approach to coaching, but as Georgia Tech athletic director he doesn't plan to waste any time finding his successor as football coach.

"I hope we can have a coach within four days," Dodd said after resigning Monday, adding that he plans to talk with three or four outsiders and key men of his own staff.

"I don't think that it is too late to hire the man we want," Dodd said. "If we want someone, I think we have as good a chance of getting him now as we had last December."

However, most speculation about Dodd's replacement centered on Tech's top defensive coach, Bud Carson.

Carson, 36, has been at Tech only a year but he was credited by Dodd with developing the Yellow Jackets' surprisingly tough defense last fall.

Also mentioned as possible candidates are Jack Griffin, Tech offensive coach, and two former Dodd aides, Florida's Ray Graves and Charlie Tate of Miami of Florida.

Whoever gets the job will be in select company with a rugged rebuilding chore ahead.

Dodd, 58, headed Tech's football program for 22 years. He was only the third coach since the sport was adopted at the school in 1904.

The Yellow Jackets, who had a 9-1 record and then lost to Florida in the Orange Bowl, are beefing up their schedule next fall with Notre Dame, Miami, Georgia, Tennessee, Auburn, Vanderbilt, Texas Christian, Clemson, Tulane and Duke in the lineup.

"We are graduating half of our 22 starters, and our team next fall definitely will be weaker and our schedule will be tougher," Dodd said.

Glenn Hall's damaged leg and Stan Mikita's bruised ribs haven't slowed the Chicago Black Hawks, but Rod Gilbert's aching back has brought the New York Rangers to an anxious standstill.

Denis DeJordy, who replaced Hall a week ago after the regular Chicago goalie suffered a deep skate gash above his left knee, fashioned a 36-save shut-out Sunday night as the National Hockey League leaders ran their unbeaten streak to 11 games by burying Boston 5-0.

Mikita, injured in Saturday night's 3-3 tie at Montreal, was used sparingly against the Bruins but managed to add an assist to his NHL point lead.

The second-place Rangers, meanwhile, whipped Toronto's staggering Maple Leafs 4-1 — then marked time pending a diagnosis of Gilbert's latest back ailment. The All-Star right wing, who has bounced back from two spinal operations to lead New York scorers with 23 goals, hurt his back again in Saturday night's 4-3 victory at Boston.

He started against the Leafs, but was unable to go the distance and was to have his back X-rayed today to determine the extent of the injury.

Reggie Fleming, with his first goal in 26 games, and Boom Boom Geoffrion, with his second in two nights, led the Ranger attack against the Leafs, who have lost nine in a row and are being pressed for fourth place by the onrushing Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings, triggered by Paul Henderson and Ray Cullen, bounced third-place Montreal 6-1 in Sunday night's other game and climbed within one point of Toronto.

Bobby Hull scored his 32nd goal and Phil Esposito picked up a goal and two assists as the Black Hawks, 9-0-2 since Jan. 14, protected their 10-point league lead.

records in Boston and New York.

A prospective duel between Dave Patrick, NCAA mile champion from Villanova, and Noel Carroll of Ireland and formerly a Villanova student, never came off at the Philadelphia meet as Patrick led all the way, winning in 2:09.2. Carroll finished last.

Other top victories at Seattle went to Harry Jerome of Vancouver, B.C., who won the 50-yard dash in 6.1 and to Darrell Horn of the San Francisco Athletics Club, winner of the long jump at 25-3.

Loris Brown of Seattle set a women's record in the 880, winning in 2:06.5. The old mark was set just a week earlier by Francine Kraker of the Michigan gamblers at 2:09.7.

San Diego victories went to veteran Jim Grelle in the mile at 4:08.4, Lee Evans of San Jose State in the 600 at 1:12.1, Otis Burrell in the high jump at 7 feet and Ralph Boston with a 25-10 long jump.

Old Feuds Breaking Out in Athletics

NEW YORK (AP) — The roster of stars is shrinking and the old feuds are breaking out again, but there WILL be a U.S. Track and Field Federation indoor track meet here Friday.

The federation, an arm of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in its fight with the Amateur Athletic Union, finally conceded that Gerry Lindgren, the distance running star from Washington State, would not be in the meet.

The reason according to the federation — Lindgren has allergy problems and is curbing his schedule.

The reason according to Washington State officials — Lindgren, who ran a far-from-allergic 8:31.6 two-mile last Saturday, just isn't interested. Contrary to federation statements, he isn't entered and never was, the officials say.

Lindgren's race in Seattle Saturday was the third fastest indoor two mile in the books.

Also out of the meet is Charley Greene, NCAA spring champ from Nebraska, who is recovering from a muscle pull suffered two weeks ago.

Martin McGrady, indoor 600-yard record holder from Central, Ohio, State, is doubtful because of a foot injury and middle-distance star Richard Urbina of Georgetown is probably out because of a preference for a meet in Los Angeles on Saturday.

The federation meet is not sanctioned by the AAU, which claims foreign athletes — whether students in American colleges or not — can't compete. The same goes for Americans who are not in college, say the AAU.

Neil Duggan, the sub-4-minute miler from England, already has pulled out on the orders of the British Athletic Association and other noncollegians may follow suit.

Clay Gets Decision in 15 Rounds

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay, the undisputed heavyweight champion of the world again after humiliating Ernie Terrell in a one-sided 15-round fight, had an easy road ahead of him today in his brilliant fist career.

Unless the Army gets him first, the all-winning 25-year-old, new Texan, only has mediocre competition ahead of him, the likes of Zora Folley, the scientific if meek No. 2 contender from Chandler, Ariz.; Canadian George Chuvalo in a repeat; young Thad Spencer; and possibly — horrors of horrors — Floyd Patterson once more.

"It will be either Zora Folley or George Chuvalo next," said Clay-Muhammad Ali, unmarked as usual, "but I'm sure it's Folley. I think Folley can put up a better fight than Terrell. He's a better boxer."

"I can beat Clay," said the 34-year-old Folley. "I saw plenty of openings."

How would he do it? "With my two hands," said the soft-spoken Folley, a man of few words.

A Clay-Folley match might be made for New York's Madison Square Garden or Detroit's Olympia, in late March.

Meanwhile Clay is appealing his 1-A draft status, claiming he is a minister of the Black Muslim sect.

Clay, now winner in eight title defenses and six in 11 months, had predicted he would hand the 27-year-old 6-foot-6 Terrell "a Floyd Patterson humiliation beating."

He did just that in half-closing Terrell's left eye, cutting him over the right eye, and pounding him almost at will. He did everything but knock down the lumbering giant, who stumbled about half-blinded from the middle rounds on.

Terrell's vaunted left jab, his main attacking weapon, was completely nullified by the dazzling foot work and head movements of the superbly conditioned Clay.

The three officials had Clay ahead by top-sided scores. Using the 10-point must system, referee Harry Kessler had it 148-137 (12-2-1 in rounds), judge Jimmie Webb had it 148-133 (13-2 in rounds), and Judge Ernie Taylor 148-137 (13-2 in rounds). The Associated Press card had it 148-137, and 14-1 in rounds, giving Terrell only the second.

"He was disappointing because he just kept holding and clinching all the time, but he had to have great courage to stay in the ring and take a whipping for 15 rounds," said Clay.

"He fought a dirty fight," Terrell contended. "He rubbed my right eye against the ropes and thumbed my left eye so that from the third round on I couldn't see Clay to hit him."

"I kept seeing two or three people," Terrell said bruised under the left eye in the fourth round, and it puffed his eye to a slit by the end of the tortuous whipping. Big Ernie was out over the right eye in the seventh round and he lurched about the ring from then on, trying to close in on his elusive, taunting foe, who popped him with both hands and moved like a ballet dancer.

Clay, who indicated he would fight Zora Folley or George Chuvalo next, challenged any man "to put a scratch on me."

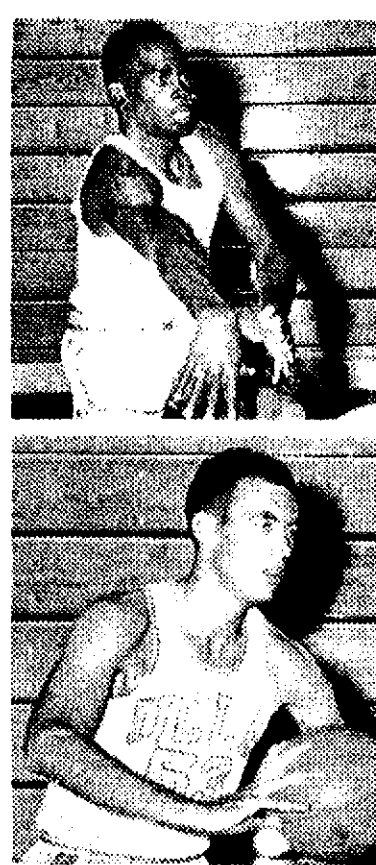

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Esposito, Bobby Hull's right-hand man on one of Chicago's two potent forward lines, has joined Hull, Stan Mikita and three other Black Hawks among the National Hockey League's top scorers.

Esposito, who plays center alongside left winger Hull, picked up a goal and four assists last week for a total of 34 points and climbed into a 10th place tie in the individual point race, according to latest NHL figures released today.

Mikita, who centers the Hawks' Scooter Line, continues to set a torrid pace, with 24 goals and 45 assists for 69 points. His wingmen, Kenny Wharram and Doug Mohns, are second and eight, respectively.

Hull, the goal-producer leader with 32 markers, is fourth behind Norm Ullman of Detroit, and Chicago defenseman Pierre Pilote shares the No. 10 spot with Esposito and Detroit's Alex Delvecchio.

Completing the top 12 are Phil Goyette of New York, Bobby Rousseau of Montreal, Gordie Howe of Detroit and Rod Gilbert of the Rangers.

SUPPORTING ROLES. Lew Alcindor is a devastating weapon for UCLA because the opposition cannot relax one moment against the other starters, who would be stars on any other team. They include, from left, Lucius Allen (top), Lynn Shackelford (bottom), Mike Warren and Kenny Heitz.

Clay Called Dirty Fighter by Terrell

By B. F. KELLUM
HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay says he humiliated Ernie Terrell, who in turn, contends Clay was "a dirty fighter 1" Clay had whipped if I could have seen from the third round."

"I just gave him my Floyd Patterson humiliation treatment like I predicted," Clay said. He called Terrell's left jabs just flips.

Clay won a unanimous 15-round decision over Terrell Monday night to settle the disputed heavyweight championship.

Terrell, who suffered a cut over the right eye and a "blood spot" in the left, said he saw three of him" after the third round when he asserted he suffered the eye injury as the champion rubbed his face across the rope.

Terrell's manager, George Hamid Jr., said Terrell had an appointment today with an eye specialist to check the blood spot.

Clay said Terrell was a disappointment "because he just kept holding and clinching all the time."

"But he had to have great courage to stay in the ring and take a whipping for 15 rounds," said Clay.

Despite his battered face and cut eye, Terrell said he was never hurt by the champion.

"I feel I could have beat him if he had not used the dirty tactics," Terrell said. "When my eye was hurt I couldn't fight my kind of fight."

In the eighth round, Clay said he kept asking Terrell: "What's my name? What's my name?"

However, Terrell said Clay often things.

"I can't tell you all the things he said, but he called me 'Uncle Tom' and 'Negro' and said 'You're going to be messed up,'" Terrell said.

Terrell said he did not answer when Clay asked his name.

"But his name is Cassius Clay," Terrell declared.

Clay said he was happy to come through without a scratch "because it is a good test to be able to fight a dull man like Terrell who makes a fighter look bad."

Clay, who indicated he would fight Zora Folley or George Chuvalo next, challenged any man "to put a scratch on me."

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, turned playmaker, is a sure bet to lose his scoring title, but no one is taking away his field goal percentage and rebounding leadership, the latest National Basketball Association statistics showed today.

Rick Barry of San Francisco, set to replace Chamberlain as the league's top scorer, has a runaway total of 1,978 points in 55 games for a 36-point-a-game average. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati firmly holds second with 1,578 points for a 30.3 average.

Jerry West of Los Angeles replaced Philadelphia's Chamberlain in third place with 1,356 points, four more than big Wilt. West is averaging 26.9 points a game to 23.7 for Wilt.

But Chamberlain, passing off much more than in earlier years when he broke most NBA scoring marks, appears certain to repeat as rebound and field goal percentage leader. He is averaging 24.2 rebounds a

Ryun Hopes He Deserves the Award

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — "I hope I can live up to the standards of this recognition," said 19-year-old Jim Ryun of Kansas, world mile record-holder and 37th winner of the James E. Sullivan Award.

"I'm quite pleased — this is something special," Ryun said. The trophy was put up in 1930 by the Amateur Athletic Union for the "amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

It's well known by now that Ryun, most publicized teen-age track athlete ever, is a modest, religious youth who makes B grades.

Not generally known is that Ryun's most ardent supporters are his peers — his fellow track athletes he has been beating consistently in recent years. Almost all were older men, but they go out of their way to say nice things about the former Wichita, Kan., paper boy.

Ryun is the third University of Kansas athlete to win the Sullivan award. Jim Bausch of Wichita, a 200-pound football fullback, was named in 1932 for winning the Olympic decathlon championship. The second was Glenn Cunningham of Elkhart, Kan., in 1933. Cunningham was the last American before Ryun to hold the world record in the mile.

"This is the finest award an amateur athlete can get," said Bob Timmons, Kansas coach who also tutored Ryun in high school. "It's very unusual for a boy his age to have such a year in track."

Ryun was a runaway choice over Yale's Don Schollander, swimming great who won the Sullivan Award in 1964 for his four Olympic gold medals.

In voting by a panel of the AAU board of governors, sports-writers and sportscasters, Ryun received 750 first place votes and 3,838 points, Schollander 145 first place votes and 1,861 points.

Third with 1,231 was Bill Toomey, two-time National AAU decathlon champion, a Colorado graduate now living in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Ryun's 3:51.3 world record in the mile, shattering the old mark by 2.3 seconds, came July 17 at Berkeley, Calif., just five days after he spent three hours snapping pictures in 108-degree heat in St. Louis at baseball's All-Star game. He is a part-time newspaper photographer. He'll be presented the trophy Feb. 25 at a luncheon in Chicago.

His 1:44.9 half-mile is still pending as a world mark. He also set an American record of 8:25.2 in the two-mile last year.

There are about 14 teaspoonsful of sugar in the average two-pound sugar beet.

Providence, the only other member of the Top Ten which played, also was victorious. The ninth-ranked Friars brought their record to 14-3 by defeating St. Bonaventure 80-65 as Mike Riordan scored 25 points and pulled down 14 rebounds.

The nation's No. 1 small college team, Southern Illinois, knocked off Centenary 79-63 while Marshall, the team that dropped Toledo from the unbeaten ranks Saturday night, fell to Morehead 112-98 in double overtime.

Georgia Almost Had Vanderbilt

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Georgia almost stymied Vanderbilt with the Scintillating Stall — basketball's latest craze — but the Bulldogs' slowdown tactics backfired when their offense virtually stood still.

The Bulldogs fought the stronger Commodores to a standstill at the end of regulation time, but the visitors put a stop to the fooling around in overtime and pulled out a 51-41 victory Monday night.

The stall burst into prominence last weekend when two high-ranking members of the Top Ten ran into the slowdown strategies of their weaker opponents.

The Top Ten teams won, though, Princeton beating Dartmouth 30-16 Friday night and UCLA trimming Southern California 40-35 in overtime Saturday night.

The object of the strategy is that if the stronger team can't get the ball because the weaker team doesn't shoot it, the stronger team can't score too many points.

In Monday night's example, the Bulldogs had only a 21-19 deficit at halftime. They reversed that score in the second half and wound up with a 40-40 tie at the end of regulation time.

Then Georgia hit the overtime period. Bob Warren hit two quick field goals for Vanderbilt, and the Commodore defense did the job the rest of the way, holding the Bulldogs to a single point.

The victory enabled Vanderbilt to remain in a tie for first place in the Southeastern Conference with Tennessee, which whipped Louisiana State 76-59 behind Ron Widby's 31-point performance.

In another overtime contest, sixth-ranked Western Kentucky trimmed Murray 88-79 for its 17th straight triumph. Don Duncan's three-point play for Murray with 13 seconds to play tied the game 73-73 and sent it into overtime. But the Hilltoppers then pulled away after Clem Haskins hit two baskets.

Fifth-ranked Houston originally was slated to play Lamar Tech, but the game was cancelled to give Houston a break in its busy schedule.

Plunge for Safety's Sake

The late model car pointed straight down and plunged 30 feet like a wingless dive bomber to wrap its nose around a section of telephone pole. There were no injuries, however. The staged crash was part of a research project at Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory at Buffalo, N.Y., aimed at minimizing the effects of single-car accidents on the nation's highways. The research is being conducted by Cornell Laboratory under a $147,786 contract with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Data obtained from instruments on the car and telephone pole in several car-drop experiments will be used in a computer simulation of a wide variety of single-car accidents. Eventual aim of the program is to reduce the incidence of injury-producing accidents and economic loss from property damage that occurs when cars run off highways. Despite the apparent drama of a drop such as pictured here, the impact was at about 30 m.p.h., a lower speed than occurs in many highway accidents.

War in the Mekong Mud

North Africa had its deserts, Korea had its mountains, and Vietnam has its Mekong Delta. Though fertile and rice-rich, this area of slimy mud and stagnant water pools has got to be one of the most improbable spots to fight a war the United States soldier has ever faced.

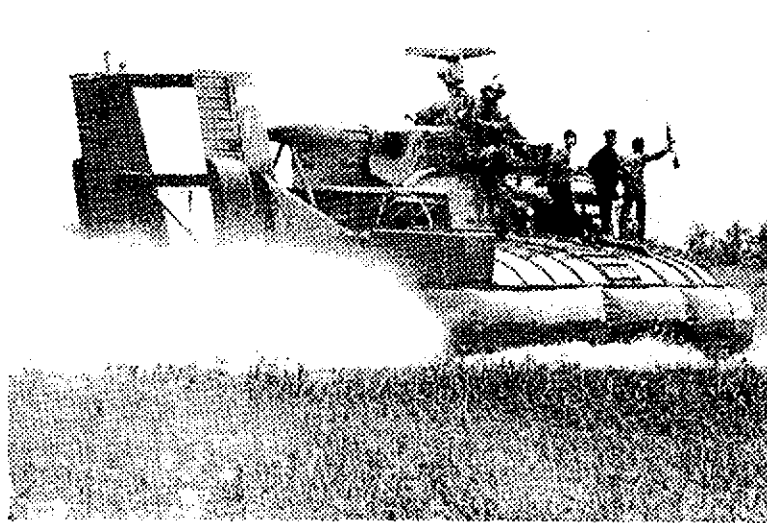

WATER AND MUCK is the biggest problem confronting foot soldiers, next to the enemy. Moisture quickly rots clothing, footwear, and corrodes ammunition and weapons.

Until recently, American forces in Vietnam have left fighting in the Delta to the South Vietnamese. Now a GI buildup is under way in this Viet Cong-dominated part of the country, and river patrol boats and the fantastic hovercraft make regular forays. Recently South Vietnamese paratroopers and U.S. troops teamed up for a drop into a Cong stronghold, the U Minh forest.

NEW LOOK in uniforms for Red Cross volunteers is aimed at economy as well as modernization, in an effort to encourage more volunteer workers. A major innovation is a loose-fitting smock, shown at left, for volunteers on indoor assignments. Cost is $4.50. Replacing the dress of World War II vintage worn by Gray Ladies and nurses aides is a new two-piece dress with matching hat, shown at right. Catching up with fashion, it has a zipped overblouse and an A-line skirt.

STUDDER FOR TRACTION, this tire shows the steel spikes securely locked into a new winter tire. The studs improve traction on ice and hard-packed snow, but some states outlaw them, claiming they damage highway surfaces. Yet Goodyear estimates that 20 per cent of their winter tires to be sold this winter season will be studded.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG Red Blood Cells in Urine Calls for Fast Diagnosis By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q-What would cause double vision? Could a blow above the temple do it?
A-The most common cause of double vision is a paralysis of one of the muscles that move the eye-ball. A blow would not be likely to cause it unless it was heavy enough to cause a skull fracture.

Q-What causes macular degeneration? Does it result in blindness?

A-Macular degeneration is a destruction of the point of central vision in the retina.
It may be caused by an injury to the eye or advanced age.
Since there is no treatment for this condition the vision lost cannot be regained.

Q-My doctor found red blood cells in my urine. He has ruled out any disease of the kidneys or prostate. What other conditions could cause this?

A-The most likely other cause would be a disease of the bladder. Less likely possibilities include leukemia, purpura, scurvy and hemo-philia. I would advise you to have a cystoscopic examination without delay because blood in the urine is never to be taken lightly.

Q-What would cause
albumin in the urine? What diet should I follow to get rid of it?

A-The commonest diseases that might cause albumin in the urine are nephritis (Bright's disease), heart disease with a leaky valve, leukemia, purpura, scurvy and poisoning with mercury, lead and other chemicals. In adolescents and young adults albumin may appear in the urine after prolonged standing. For this condition, known as orthostatic albuminuria, no treatment is necessary. It is not a threat to health and disappears in time.

For the more serious conditions the treatment would depend on the cause. The protein intake should not be restricted unless the daily output of urine is scanty. Since scurvy is caused by a deficiency of vitamin C, adding citrus fruits to the diet will cure it. In some of the conditions listed it may be necessary to limit the intake of

Congress Is Planning to Recess Soon

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress plans to recess late this week for its first 1967 holiday after more tussling with the national debt, the Powell case and reorganization.
The holiday scheduled to start
Thursday is for the Lincoln's Birthday period, traditional time of Republican celebrations.
It is listed to end by the middle of next week.

The House will take up on Wednesday a bill to boost the national debt limit to $336 billion, $6 billion over the present temporary ceiling.
President Johnson urgently asked for a $7 billion boost but the House Ways and Means Committee cut that back by $1 billion.
Powell has been invited to appear Wednesday.

UAW Commits $3 Million to Aid Members

By A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers union was expected today to commit $3 million to an independent drive that would embrace labor organizing, social action and helping unions in difficulty with employers.

This would be its answer to what it terms adherence of its parent AFL-CIO "to the status quo."

The 1.4-million-member UAW came to a near break with the AFL-CIO last week over what it called complacency of the amalgamation under leadership of the president, George Meany, 73.

Under orders from their 26-member international executive board, UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his three top officers resigned from the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

At its April 20-22 convention, the UAW will discuss the union's relations with the AFL-CIO and the granting of executive board authority to take "whatever action in this regard will best serve the interests of the UAW."

A complete break from the AFL-CIO was avoided when Reuther, 60, kept the presidency of its industrial union department, by far the largest within the organization which Meany and Reuther created in 1955 by merging their respective American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The UAW rank and file was promised a letter to clarify the action.

It now develops there may be a series of three letters, the first of which was expected to be dispatched sometime today.

Other unions with similar views will be welcome to join what one UAW source termed "our positive approach to problems for which solutions must be found."

The same source said Reuther had determined that the UAW "will assume the leadership of a progressive labor movement."

A major reason for severing ties with the AFL-CIO Executive Council was to permit the UAW leaders to take their demands to the rank and file of labor generally, rather than confine debate to the council and be bound by its majority action.

Meany dominates the council, which last November approved by a vote of 18-6 Meany's conduct of its international affairs.

Reuther had criticized the walkout of the AFL-CIO delegation to the International Labor Organization meeting at Geneva when a representative of Communist Poland was chosen president. He said it tended to tear down "the bridges of understanding" President Johnson was attempting to build between East and West.

The UAW also accused the AFL-CIO of a lack of "social vision." Reuther has been dissatisfied with racial integration progress within some of the old line craft unions which made up the AFL-CIO unions include all workers within an industry — the skilled, semiskilled, and unskilled.

No Agreement in Sight on Panama Treaty

By BEN F. MEYER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations between the United States and Panama over a new Panama Canal treaty are nearing the end of their third year with no sign an agreement may be reached soon.

Negotiators for the two nations went to work in April 1964, shortly after Panamanian mobs stormed the U.S.-occupied Canal Zone. The riot cost the lives of 21 Panamanians and 4 U.S. soldiers and the two nations briefly severed diplomatic relations.

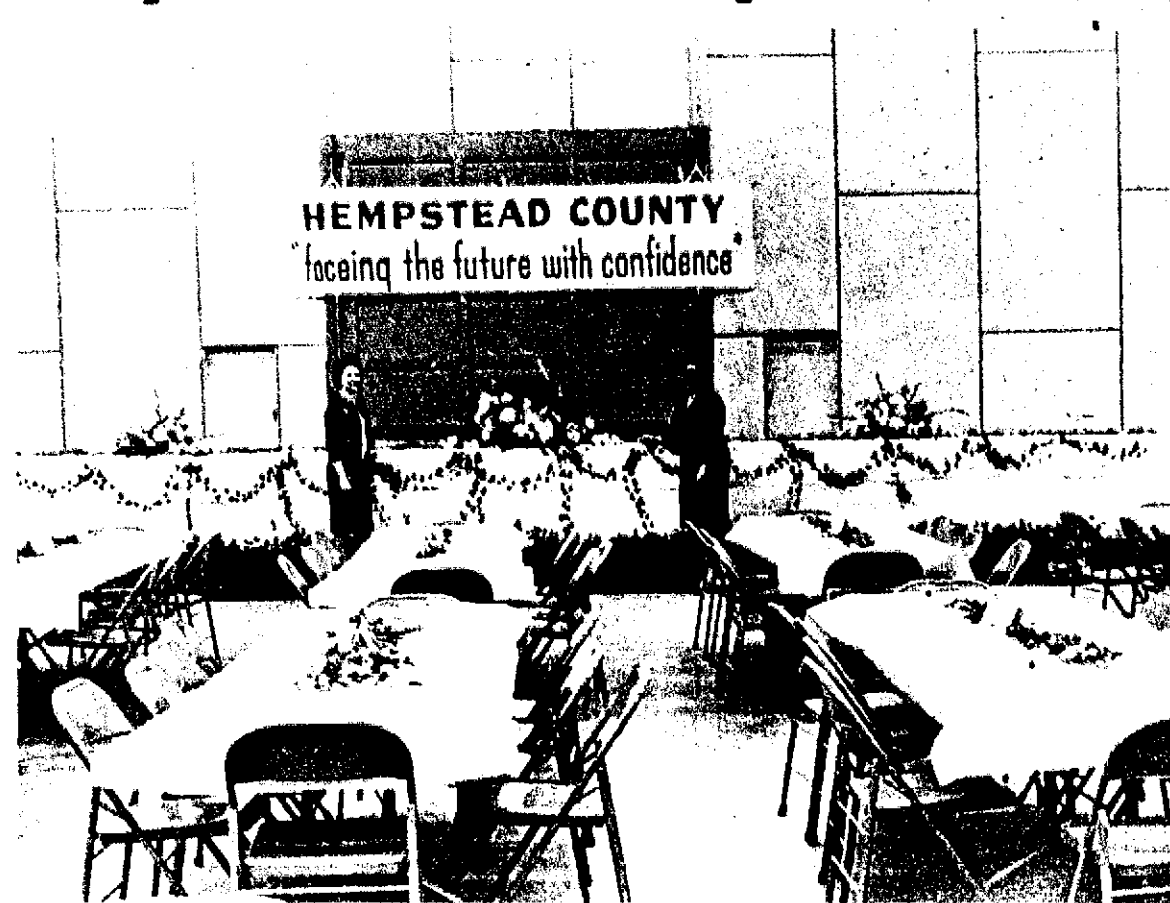

President Johnson announced in September 1965 that a treaty was being negotiated to replace the 1903 pact which allowed the United States to operate the Canal Zone by paying $1.93 million annually to Panama.

Secrecy has shrouded the negotiations at various sites since then. Officials for both sides have said that's the way they want it.

The controversial nature of the issue — and past political reaction to various proposals on how to handle the vital canal — make confidential negotiations necessary, say sources in both nations.

Prison Firing Is Defined by Rockefeller

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Penitentiary's assistant superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm was dismissed because his "reputation . . . and the manner in which he operated the prison had many of the prisoners living in fear of their lives," Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Monday.

The governor's remarks were in a two-page, typed memorandum delivered to the Arkansas Legislature's Joint Penitentiary Investigating Committee by Bob Scott, Rockefeller's aide on prison and parole affairs.

The memorandum explained the governor's firing of Asst. Supt. Pink Booher and three of his wardens—J. L. Mashburn, Robert Henslee and H. H. Chadick.

Rockefeller said he had obtained his information on Booher from State Police Director Herman Lindsey, who also had expressed concern for the safety of Booher and "others."

The governor's memorandum said Lindsey and two members of the investigating committee also had told him that the situation at the prison was critical, and that personnel changes were required immediately.

The committee members, who were not identified, also told him that "goon squads" composed of prison trustees were "beating up" inmates who had talked to investigators, Rockefeller said.

"With all the information brought to me by Lindsey and other officials," Rockefeller said, "I determined it was my duty and obligation to act as I did. Prudence would permit no other course."

Rockefeller's memorandum to the five-member committee, which is headed by Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, also denied that he had in any way approved the firing of Booher.

last December.
"I did not know him, or anything about his qualifications and background," Rockefeller said. "The decision to appoint him was that of the Faubus Administration."

Civil Work in Vietnam Is Changed

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Apparent flaws in the pacification program in South Vietnam brought about a reorganization of U.S. civilian operations two months ago, and officials of the program say they feel "a great deal of progress" is being made.

The Office of Civil Operations was formed Dec. 1 to coordinate the program after some experts complained the effort to win the minds and hearts of the Vietnamese peasantry had not kept pace with the improving military situation.

Analysts here believe military efforts alone can never overcome the long-term Viet Cong strategy of subversion and guerrilla warfare so long as the loyalties of the peasants remain in question.

Prior to the reorganization, the pacification program worked largely through the U.S. Agency for International Development, the U.S. Public Affairs Office and other civilian bodies which operated independently.

"Sometimes the left hand didn't know what the right was doing," said one American. "We were speaking with a multiplicity of voices without there necessarily being any coordination between them."

Deputy Ambassador William J. Porter was picked to head OCO. He put the various U.S. civilian operations under an integrated command.

Officials said it is too early to evaluate OCO's success, but they are pleased with the speed with which the new structure was organized.

Porter, 52, is regarded as a

Election Upheld by State Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court let stand today the election of Rep. Vada Sheld of Mountain Home in her race last November against the Republican incumbent, O. D. Pendergrass.

In another case, the court held that there was a defect in a suit over whether some members of the Arkansas Senate would have to stand for election to two-year terms rather than the four provided by the constitution.

The Supreme Court, in the Pendergrass-Sheld case, said the state Constitution provides that each house of the General Assembly shall be its own judge of the qualifications of its members in that the judicial branch is without a jurisdiction in election contests involving legislative seats.

Pendergrass had contended in his suit that 84 votes should be declared void for various reasons. Mrs. Sheld, the Democratic nominee, was certified as the winner of the race, by a vote of 4,542-4,488.

The court said it found no basis for Pendergrass' suggestion that the necessary statutory authority for a judicial contest of the election is found in a section of the statutes that provide in election contests the contestant must put up bond to insure the payment of any money judgment that he might suffer.

"We cannot take seriously the argument that this bare requirement of a bond was intended to confer upon the court's jurisdiction of election contests for everyone of the offices mentioned," the court said.

The court held that the suit over senatorial elections was defective because only five senators of the 18th Senatorial District were made defendants.

The court said all the members of the Senate should have been made parties to the suit.

The suit arose out of the 1965 reapportionment on the basis of "one-man-one-vote" ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court. The reapportionment left unaffected the districts of nine senators who ostensibly were elected to four-year terms in 1964.

Last year the court held that these nine senators could serve out the remainder of their four-year terms without standing for re-election in 1966.

In a concurring opinion, Chief Justice Carleton Harris said he believed it was improper to draw lots for two and four-year terms in the present session of the General Assembly. Harris said he believed there was no occasion for a drawing until at least after the 1970 federal census.

The court reversed the conviction and two-year sentences of John Petty, Luther Ernest Myrick and William Dodson on charges of burglary and grand larceny in connection with a break-in at a Fayetteville bowling alley in which more than $35 was taken.

The court upheld the appellant's contention that their truck was illegally searched by officers at Mount Ida and that the items they obtained were inadmissible as evidence.

The court also reversed the five-year sentence given Lloyd Cabbiness of Little Rock on a charge of burglary in connection with a break-in at a Berryville grocery. The court held that the trial judge erred in admitting into testimony about items seized from Cabbiness' apartment without a search warrant. The trial was in Carroll Circuit Court.

Says Prison Conditions Still Bad

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Television Station KATV of Little Rock Sunday night said it had learned from a source close to the governor's office that conditions at Tucker Prison Farm are still "deplorable."

The station also quoted its source as saying prisoners are telling of highly questionable activities. The spokesman likened the atmosphere at Tucker to "a powder keg," the station said.

KATV also said that the action of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in firing four persons at Tucker last Friday was aimed mainly at Pink Booher, the assistant prison superintendent.

Rockefeller called a news conference Friday and said he had fired Booher and wardens J. L. Mashburn, Bob Hensley and H. H. Chadick.

The governor declined to give any reasons for the dismissals. He later announced that he would have a news conference at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Little Rock television studio.

No Feelers for Peace, Says Kennedy

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says he did not bring any Vietnam war peace feelers from Europe, but he told President Johnson the French could provide meaningful contacts with Hanoi.

Kennedy said after a White House conference with Johnson Monday, "I never received the impression that I was any recipient of any peace feelers."

This momentarily quieted, but did not entirely erase, a flurry of speculation which grew out of reports in Newsweek magazine that the New York Democrat was bringing back at least some second-hand information that might be helpful in arranging peace talks.

Kennedy told Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach earlier Monday that French President Charles de Gaulle had reiterated to Kennedy his position that there was little chance for peace unless the United States was willing to announce a schedule for withdrawal of its troops from Vietnam.

Kennedy repeated this assessment to Johnson when Katzenbach accompanied him to the White House.

The New York senator interpreted this as indicating that De Gaulle was not prepared to take any practical steps at this time to get negotiations going.

But Kennedy was said to have found the lower echelons of the French government, where contact is maintained directly with Hanoi envoys, much more flexible in their approach to the problem.

Although he would not discuss his talk with Johnson, Kennedy said in an interview that his remarks in Europe that the next two or three weeks may be crucial in the search for peace were based on three points:

— The truce beginning with the Vietnamese lunar New Year Wednesday and lasting until Sunday morning could produce "intensified efforts for peace" in several quarters.

— There is belief in European capitals that Hanoi's ties with Communist China have been loosened by the turmoil in China.

— There is a "general feeling in Europe that North Vietnam is not as adamant in its demands" as it has been previously.

He is not yet prepared to do it, but Kennedy seemingly is going to join some Senate colleagues in urging an extension of the pause in the bombing of North Vietnam that is scheduled for the New Year period.

At the White House Kennedy told reporters he thinks that possibly too much emphasis has been placed on merely getting negotiations going for the sake of talking and not enough on getting the kind of talks needed to achieve a settlement.

Just Hadn't Reckoned on Priests

CHICAGO (AP) — A burglar hadn't reckoned on meeting two priests when he entered the rectory of St. Brendan's Roman Catholic Church.

The Revs. William J. Quinlan and Gerald Millan surprised the man on the second floor of the rectory Monday.

Father Millan, who stands about 6 feet 4, struggled with the burglar, Father Quinlan said, while he grabbed a baseball bat and swatted the intruder a few times.

The priests said the man dropped the wallet and watch he was holding, leaped out the window into a snowdrift and fled.

Think

What else besides Long Distance telephone service costs you less today than it did 10 years ago?

Tough question. Not many things have gone down in price these past few years. Most goods and services have zoomed up in cost.

Long Distance rates are a pleasant exception. There have been seven rate reductions in Arkansas in the last eight years.

Nowadays, you can make a three-minute, station-to-station call to anywhere in the continental United States (except Alaska) for $1 or less after 8 p.m. or all day Sunday. This is the lowest rate ever. (Interesting comparison: The first transcontinental phone call, made in 1915, cost $20.70.)

And service today is faster and more convenient than ever before.

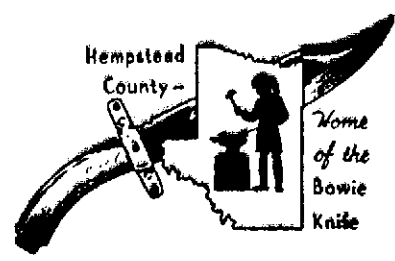

Better service at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination, don't you?

Kilocycle Humor War: Politicians or Fighting Men?

I got this one from L. Carter Johnson, who says he got it from Radio Station KWKH, Shreveport:

The "teen-age filly called up a record shop and asked: "Do you have 'Ten Little Fingers and Ten Little Toes From Tennessee'?" They did not.

So she called another record shop, but dialed the number of a plumber. "Do you have 'Ten Little Fingers and Ten Little Toes From Tennessee'?" she asked. "No," replied the plumber, "but I do have a wife and nine kids in Texas."

"Is that a record?" asked the filly.

"No," replied the plumber — "but it's progress."

Sen. Stuart Symington (Dem., Mo.), one of the crustier characters around Capitol Hill, returned from a four-week tour of Southeast Asia with the caustic report that "too many Washington civilians are directing the war in Vietnam."

Symington, himself a former Air Force Secretary, thinks politicians are sticking their noses into the business of fighting men. "There is too much detailed instruction incident to the tactical conduct of this war," he concludes.

His remarks hit the newspapers at the same time an altercation broke out over the visit of the United States Carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt to Capetown, South Africa. The carrier, returning home from Vietnam, stopped at Capetown to refuel — but her 3,800-man crew were denied shore privileges in segregated Capetown because some of the crew were Negroes, supposedly on orders from Washington. The Roosevelt had been scheduled to remain at Capetown through Tuesday, but she hauled up anchors and left hurriedly on Monday — amid rumors that the 3,800 men aboard were unhappy over their loss of shore liberty.

All this seems to bear out Symington's denouncement of political interference with our fighting men.

It is an historic fault in American government. It dates back to Revolutionary days; it was a sore spot in all our Indian wars — and the most dramatic chapter of all was written by President Harry Truman when he overruled General Douglas MacArthur and forbade him pursuing marauding Chinese warplanes back across the Yalu River and destroying their bases, in the Korean war.

Had not Truman the politician interfered with MacArthur the soldier it is pretty obvious today there would be no divided Korea and no war in Vietnam whatever. In war a soldier is usually right and a politician usually wrong.

Bridge Knocks Out Italian Freighter

RIO VISTA, Calif. (AP) — The Rio Vista Bridge on state highway 12 over the Sacramento River, knocked out of commission by an Italian freighter Jan. 12, is open again to traffic.

About 200 attended reopening ceremonies Monday for the two-mile span. Its closure, the Chamber of Commerce estimated, had reduced retail trade in this town of 4,000 by 85 per cent.

A permanent section to replace the damaged one will be floated into place in about three months.

The Italian freighter Illice missed the open draw section on a foggy night and rammed into a tower.

The state has filed suit for $600,000 damages against the captain and owners of the ship and the bar pilot who was aboard.

Peking Mobs Rally for 12th Day

MOSCOW (AP) — Shouting Chinese mobs demonstrated outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking for the 12th straight day today, trapping Soviet employees inside the building, the Czechoslovak news agency C.T.K. reported from the Chinese capital.

C.T.K. said the Chinese Foreign Ministry warned Monday night that the "safety of Soviet citizens outside the embassy cannot be ensured."

The agency said Polish and Czechoslovak diplomats came to the aid of the embattled embassy staff today, driving their cars through the embassy gates with difficulty to bring them food.

C.T.K. said the new outbreak of rioting followed a fairly quiet night. Soviet diplomats who had been detained in a bus for several hours by angry mobs Monday were finally allowed to enter their embassy.

The diplomats were returning from the airport where planes evacuated their families amid more angry demonstrations.

The embassy staff repaired the iron entrance gate which was broken during Monday's rioting and reinforced it with a chain.

Rampaging Red Guards, retaliating against the roughing up by Soviet police on Chinese students and embassy employees in Moscow, hanged Soviet leaders in effigy. Tadashi Nogami, Peking correspondent for the Big Japanese paper Asahi Shimbun, said the demonstrations were "really ferocious" but he did not think they would lead to a diplomatic break between China and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union and Poland, which said its ambassador to Peking was insulted during the airport outburst, filed angry protests.

Nogami said the Peking demonstrations appeared out of control but that there was some sort of order because leaders circulated among the crowds issuing instructions.

Offers Bill to Clip WR's Authority

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Bill Wells of Arkansas introduced a bill in the Arkansas House Monday that would remove the governor's authority to fire the superintendent of the state prison.

The penitentiary board presently has the authority to appoint a superintendent, but the governor has the power to fire him, said Wells. His bill would place the dismissal authority solely in the hands of the board.

The representative's bill also requires the superintendent to make monthly reports of his activities to the governor.

Wells said he thought the board should have sole responsibility to fire a superintendent since it appoints him.

Other measures introduced in the legislature Monday included:

HOUSE

— A bill fixing the deadline for registering to vote in primary elections at July 1.

— A proposal making electric co-operatives subject to the general jurisdiction of the Arkansas Public Service Commission with some exceptions.

— A bill to enable the Arkansas Library Commission to enter into the Interstate Library Compact.

— A bill to regulate outdoor advertising and junkyards along interstate and primary highways.

— A bill providing one justice of the peace for every 2,000 electors and at least two for each township, however small.

SENATE

— A bill to authorize the establishment of community junior colleges as provided in a constitutional amendment adopted by voters in the 1964 general election.

— A bill to make it unlawful for an employer to fire an employee whose wages have been garnished unless the employee has had three garnishments within a one-year period.

— A bill to permit issuance of drivers licenses on the basis of birth months or some other staggered basis.

— A bill to permit issuance of two-year drivers licenses without increasing the present $24-year cost.

— A bill to require lighted lamps on moving motor vehicles from a half hour after sunset until a half hour before sunrise and any other time when there is not sufficient light to see persons or vehicles 500 feet away.

— A bill to require the state Drivers Licensing Bureau to maintain records of all moving traffic violations for which a motorist has been convicted.

— A bill to require motorcycle riders to wear protective headgear and eye protectors.

— A bill to prohibit the licensing of any motorist who is receiving any type of welfare benefits or tax exemptions as a blind, or nearly blind, person.

Winter Hits East and Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter hurled a line of heavy snowstorms against the Eastern Seaboard today and turned south to give a stern look to would be revelers at the nation's most splendid midwinter celebration — Mardi Gras.

Rain — seven inches of it — drenched the carnival city of New Orleans on the eve of its annual big day and forced the evacuation of 150 families who found themselves wading through a foot of water in their living rooms.

Near-freezing temperatures forced New Orleans' shivering beauties to abandon plans to appear in brief costumes. Despite it all, up to a million celebrators were expected to pack the city's central area today.

Weather problems elsewhere were more severe.

Heavy snow fell Monday in Virginia, Tennessee and West Virginia and warnings of more snow were posted from eastern Tennessee and the mountains of North Carolina to southeast Ohio and southern New Jersey.

Massachusetts and Rhode Island were also on the heavy snow list. South of the snow belt, mixtures of snow, sleet and freezing rain made driving difficult from the central regions of the Carolinas to northeast Mississippi. Cold marched along with the precipitation and fruit growers in southern Alabama, northern Georgia and northwest Florida were given cold-wave warnings.

Altogether, hazardous driving or heavy-snow warnings were issued in 18 states.

New York City officials kept 200 salt spreaders and their crews on duty overnight, to concentrate on hills and spots where melted snow had frozen.

The rest of a 2,000-man night force worked to restore garbage collection disrupted by Monday's snowstorm.

The storm dumped up to three inches of snow on the city and its suburbs and delayed commuters for up to three hours.

No new snow is in sight for Detroit, where the city's $800,000 snow removal budget has been spent. Robert Toohy, commissioner of public works, said that a $13,000 emergency snow fund is also gone. Toohy said Detroit is having trouble clearing its 733 miles of major streets and that side streets will have to wait.

Pupils in Gary, Ind., today have schools to go to for the first time since they were closed by snow 12 days ago. The city's 49,000 elementary and high school pupils were told to report an hour later than usual to minimize traffic problems in the snow-choked city of 178,000. Gary has received 37 inches of snow in three storms since Jan. 26.

The losses outside Vietnam included Air Force fighter-bombers which crashed in Laos while bombing Communist infiltration routes and planes downed in Thailand en route to missions in North Vietnam.

The announced toll of 255 helicopters will soon be more than doubled by adding in the non-attack categories of loss, officials also indicated.

Russell said he believes the losses of 1,172 fixed-wing planes exceeds the attrition rate for similar losses in the Korean War.

Russell said he and his committee knew the losses were clearly double those of the previously posted 622. He indicated he saw no need for any new investigation of the matter except for a possible inquiry into tightening security.

Small Damage in Accident

The opinion went to Harry Martens, chairman of the Boone County Quorum Court's Finance and Planning Committee.

Derelict Security, Says Russell of U. S. Plane Losses

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee said today the military is guilty of "great derelictions in security" in guarding U.S. airfields and ammunition dumps in Vietnam.

Russell said the Pentagon's announcement Monday nearly doubling the publicly acknowledged toll of U. S. aircraft in Southeast Asia indicated a security gap.

"Our operating conditions at our airfields are not good," Russell said. "We have not installed the bunker system we used in World War II to separate parked planes from each other and thus diminish damage from attack."

"There has been great dereliction in security at our airfields and ammunition dumps which has permitted the Viet Cong to make damaging, sneak attacks on them. This must be corrected."

The Georgia Democrat said that while South Vietnamese have been used to guard airfields, ammunition depots which have been attacked are guarded by U. S. troops. Many of the newly listed aircraft were planes or helicopters destroyed or irreparably damaged by Viet Cong attack on airstrips.

The Pentagon said Monday that in addition to the previously announced losses of 622 attack planes knocked down by Communist anti-aircraft or missiles, 550 planes have been lost on air strips, in operations outside Vietnam or for operational causes.

The 550 planes, worth an estimated $500 million, were said to range from single-engine Army observation planes to jet bombers.

The losses outside Vietnam included Air Force fighter-bombers which crashed in Laos while bombing Communist infiltration routes and planes downed in Thailand en route to missions in North Vietnam.

The announced toll of 255 helicopters will soon be more than doubled by adding in the non-attack categories of loss, officials also indicated.

Enemy Shells Airfields as Truce Starts

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The Viet Cong shelled four airfields in South Vietnam today in an 11th hour surge before the start of the lunar New Year truce and U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 143 Communist soldiers killed in ground fighting.

Simultaneously U.S. warplanes, beginning the third year of the air offensive against North Vietnam, got in a final day of bombing raids before the cease-fire but poor flying weather held down the number of strikes.

The U.S. command announced that a small U.S. Air Force observation plane was shot down by ground fire in North Vietnam Monday, and a helicopter that tried to rescue the pilot was downed also. The command said another helicopter rescued one of the crewmen from the downed chopper, but the other three crewmen and the observation pilot were missing.

The truce, in observance of the Vietnamese New Year called Tet, will start at 7 a.m. Wednesday — 6 p.m. EST today. Allied forces in the field began pulling back into defensive positions.

The allies will halt offensive actions on land, sea and in the air for four days. The Viet Cong has declared a truce of seven days.

The approaching of the cease-fire also was accompanied by an upsurge in Viet Cong terrorism against civilians in several parts of South Vietnam. This included the assassination of a school teacher and a grenade thrown into the home of a deputy province chief during a pre-New Year's party which killed one civilian and wounded 11 others.

U.S. troops reported killing at least 72 Communist soldiers in a series of engagements Monday, but three companies of American infantrymen sustained moderate casualties in two separate actions. South Vietnamese forces reported killing 71 Viet Cong in three actions.

In the airfield attacks, the Viet Cong lobbed mortar and recoilless-rifle fire onto the airstrips, three of them in the Mekong Delta. U.S. and South Vietnamese spokesmen reported light or no casualties to allied troops and light damage in all four shelling.
